

Dialogues in Science and Faith 1

Talk 1:

Title: The History and Future of Science and Faith

Speaker: Dr Clinton OHLERS

R. Clinton Ohlers earned his PhD in Intellectual History, focusing on History of Science, from the University of Pennsylvania, where he also served as a lecturer on science and religion. He has been a Henry Research Fellow with the Templeton-funded Creation Project at Trinity International University where he worked on understanding the origins of perceptions of conflict between science and religion. He has completed a book manuscript on that topic, under the working title of The Birth of the Conflict Between Science and Religion. He is now a Research Assistant Professor at the University of Hong Kong, working with Faith and Global Engagement and the Faith and Science Collaborative Research Forum. His current research focuses on understanding divine action in light of modern science.
